LUNCH & DINNER RECIPES

Healthy, Satisfying Meals

I consider lunch and dinner to be interchangeable meals. Some people prefer a large lunch and a small dinner. Other people like a small lunch and a large dinner. That is completely up to you. I also know people who skip breakfast and eat a large lunch and a large dinner. While I don't recommend this, you can still make it work. Everybody's lifestyle is different, so choose the strategy that will help you stay committed to the program.

What follows is a list of recipes and meal options that can be utilized in hundreds of different dishes by mixing and matching proteins with different vegetables. Here's how it works:

- Protein. Start with about 6 oz. of skinless chicken, any kind of fish, turkey, white meat pork, or lean steak.
- Salad. Add a salad with as many greens as you want. They are a “free” food, meaning you can eat as much as you want during your meal. Be aware of the dressing you're adding to your salad. Many salad dressings are surprisingly high in sugar and calories. To avoid heavy dressings, follow my instructions on page 168 to make “Superhero Salad Dressings.”
- Veggies. Next add 1-2 cups of any of the vegetables in the nearby chart. To prepare the vegetables, steam, grill or sauté in less than 1 tablespoon of oil or a low-calorie pan spray.
- Dessert. You can eat a piece of fruit or Greek yogurt for dessert if you like, and then you're all set. I personally do this a lot for lunch.

VEGETABLES

Broccoli, cooked	Green peas	Brussels sprouts
Cabbage, cooked	Pumpkin	Green bean
Spinach	Peas, frozen	Eggplant
Mushrooms	Beets, canned	Artichoke
Cauliflower	Asparagus	Chard
Celery, raw	Zucchini	Cucumbers
Carrot, raw	Bell Pepper
Tomato	Kale

A WORD ON FOOD PREP

When cooking chicken always take the skin off first or the fat seeps into the chicken. Many people think they can cook it with the skin on and then take it off, so they are eating skinless chicken. It is skinless but much of the damage is already done during the cooking process.

A lot of my clients tell me they do not have time to really cook anything. To make it easy to have a lunch or dinner on my program you can buy or go out to get lunch or dinner so long as you keep the foods you buy simple, and you talk to your waiter or waitress about how the foods are prepared.

If you're getting your food to-go at a grocery store or market, then buy about 6 oz of fish, chicken or protein of your choice from the primary protein source list. Purchase pre-cut lettuce at your local market—whatever type you like. Add your protein to this salad, combining with a dressing that contains less than 1 g of sugar.

Superhero Salad Dressings

★ I prefer using these items for salad dressing: squeezed lemon, salsa, soy sauce, vinaigrette dressings, turmeric tahini dressing, Asian salad dressing (usually sesame), and Greek salad dressing.

Look at the labels for the sugar- and carbohydrate-content for your dressing. A couple of tablespoons of any other type of dressing is fine, but if your salad is bathed in calorie-laden ingredients, you can miss your goal. Choose dressing with less than 1 g of sugar per serving when you're eating your salad as a "free" food. If you're adding more dressing, then check out its glycemic load.

Choosing different ways to prepare a food makes that same food more interesting and tasty. Try to change it up because boredom can backfire, and then you go for a pizza out of desperation.

But if you want a pizza, I'll teach you how to make my famous cauliflower-crusted pizza. That's my first recipe in this chapter.

Steve's Famous Cauliflower Pizza

Ingredients:

1 package of cauliflower rice (riced cauliflower takes the work out of processing it and cleaning it up after)

2 whole eggs

⅛ cup of almond flour

¼ cup of shredded mozzarella cheese

2 tablespoons of marinara sauce

¼ cup of your favorite cheese

Instructions:

1. Mix all the ingredients in a bowl.
2. Then put down a large piece of parchment paper (not wax paper) over a pizza stone or cookie sheet.
3. Bake on 500 until golden, not black.
4. Then flip over and continue cooking until golden brown.
5. Add 2 tablespoons marinara sauce or diced tomatoes, ¼ cup of your favorite cheese for a pizza.
6. Put back in the oven for 2 minutes or until cheese is melted. Slice up and enjoy. Serves 2-3 people unless you're me, then it serves 1. A nice twist is to place your salad on top of the pizza, and cut and eat it with a knife and fork.

You can use my cauliflower crust to add almost anything on top you can think of that fits your meal plan or just consume it like a piece of bread. My crust is very versatile and if you come up with clever ways of using it, please feel free to email me at: atighтеру@aol.com.

CHICKEN CHOICES

Americans eat a lot of chicken every week. We toss chicken into salads, eggs, vegetable sautés, soups and even use it as a finger food. Chicken is used in many different cultures in hundreds of different ways, though we’re probably the only ones to make chicken “fingers.”

Healthy ways of preparing chicken are baked, grilled or simply roasted. Avoid fried chicken. I strongly suggest that you always prepare your chicken skinless. The fat from the skin increases calories unnecessarily in whatever dish you’re preparing.

There’s a good reason for chicken’s popularity: It’s a good source of low-calorie protein. Below are facts from the National Chicken Council. Note that these comparisons are for an equal amount of chicken, not a comparison of piece to piece. For instance, the breast portion is about half of a breast, while the meat from the wing is closer to two full wings. In other words, one wing does not have more calories than a chicken breast.

My thought is that the best way to deal with this is to worry less about how many ounces you’re eating and focus more on the hand measurements, realizing that chicken breasts provide less fat and calories for that measurement than do drumsticks, thighs and wings.

TYPE OF CHICKEN	CALORIES (per 3 ½ oz)
Skinless boneless breast	165
Skin-on, bone-in breast	197
Skinless drumstick	175
Skin-on drumstick	216
Skinless thigh	209
Skin-on thigh	229
Skinless wing	203
Skin-on wing	290
Whole chicken—meat only	167
Whole chicken—meat and skin	239

Chicken/Quinoa Bowl

Ingredients:

½ cup cooked quinoa

¾ cup shredded chicken (boil chicken then shred)

1 cup steamed vegetables (root preferred)

1-2 tablespoons vinaigrette

Instructions:

1. In a large pot, boil the chicken and then shred it with a fork.
2. (Extra step if quinoa is uncooked. If cooked skip this step.) In a medium-size pot, add 1 cup of water to the ½ cup of uncooked quinoa and cook for 20 minutes.
3. In another medium pot, cook the vegetables in water for about 5-8 minutes.
4. Plate your food and add the vinaigrette on top.

Grilled Chicken Breast Plate

Ingredients:

1 or 2 chicken breasts grilled, depending on their size (remember the palm and first-row-of-knuckles rule)

1 cup steamed broccoli

1 cup grilled eggplant

2-3 cups green salad with dressing (dressing can be salsa, vinaigrette, squeezed lemon, just no more than 1 g of sugar in the dressing)

Instructions:

1. Grill the chicken breast for 5 to 6 minutes per side or until the chicken is fully cooked.
2. Cut up the eggplant and grill it for 3 to 4 minutes on each side.
3. In a medium pot, boil water and add the broccoli. Steam the broccoli for 5 to 7 minutes.
4. In a medium-size bowl, add your greens and the dressing of your choice and toss the salad.
5. Plate your food.

Chicken Stir-fry

Ingredients:

1 chicken breast

2 tablespoons of canola oil

2 cups of mixed vegetables (carrots, broccoli, onion, bell pepper, cauliflower, etc. The amount of each type is based on your preference.)

1 cup of cauliflower rice

2 tablespoons of low-sodium soy sauce

Instructions:

1. Add the canola oil to a nonstick pan or skillet.
2. Stir-fry 1 chicken breast until it is cooked through.
3. Add in 2 cups mixed vegetables and stir the mix until fully cooked.
4. Add the soy sauce to the pan and continue to stir.
5. Cook the cauliflower rice as previously instructed in my cauliflower rice recipe.

Chicken and Cauliflower Casserole

Ingredients:

- 1 pound of boneless chicken breast
- 1 package cauliflower rice (you can get a whole cauliflower but you will need to grate it)
- 1 teaspoon of salt and a pinch of pepper
- 1 ½ teaspoon of dried parsley
- 3 tablespoons of heavy cream
- 1 cup of shredded cheddar cheese
- Cooking spray to taste

Instructions:

1. Cut your chicken into cubes.
2. Take a large skillet, add the chicken and cream. Keep heat on medium. Cook chicken until it is lightly browned (could take around 10 minutes).
3. Spray an 8x11 Pyrex dish with your non-stick spray and spread the cauliflower in it, sprinkle the dried parsley, add salt and dash of pepper.
4. Place the chicken on top of the cauliflower then pour the cream over it.
5. Spread the cheddar cheese on top. Bake for 15-20 minutes. Serves five people.

Chinese Chicken Salad

Ingredients:

- 1 chicken breast
- 1 head of iceberg lettuce or other forms of lettuce
- ⅓ cup of sliced raw almonds
- 1 tablespoon of sesame seeds
- 2 tablespoons of Chinese chicken salad dressing

Instructions:

1. Boil 1-2 chicken breasts till cooked through.
2. Cut up the head of lettuce as thin as you like and put it in bowl.
3. Shred the chicken into strips and spread the chicken over the lettuce.
4. Do the same with the almonds, sesame seeds, and dressing, and mix.

Lettuce-wrapped Chicken

Ingredients:

6 oz chicken breast

3 tablespoons guacamole

3 tablespoons salsa (mild, medium or hot, depending on your taste)

2 lettuce cups

1 tablespoon minced onions

Instructions:

1. Cut the chicken breast into whatever size you prefer.
2. Grill, sauté, etc. once again up to you.
3. Place the chicken evenly in both lettuce wraps, then evenly place the other items on top starting with the guacamole.
4. Wrap it up and enjoy. Serves two lettuce cups.

Broccoli Chicken

Ingredients:

½ cup chicken broth

1 tablespoon of low-sodium soy sauce

4 cups broccoli florets

1 clove minced garlic

1 tablespoon of olive oil

1 pound of chicken breast

Instructions:

1. Mix the chicken broth and soy sauce in a bowl.
2. Cook the broccoli in a skillet with the oil until its crispy, then remove from skillet and add it to the bowl of soy sauce.
3. Add chicken to skillet and cook until tender.
4. Then add everything in the bowl to the skillet with the chicken.
5. Bring the whole thing to a boil. Then you are done and ready to eat.
Serves four.

Non-fried Non-rice Chicken Bowl

Ingredients

- 1 chicken breast
- 1 package of cauliflower rice
- 2 tablespoons low-sodium soy sauce
- ½ cup of peas
- 1 tablespoon of lime juice
- 2 tablespoons of chopped cilantro
- 1 tablespoon of chopped onions
- 1 egg

Instructions:

1. Grill 1 chicken breast and cut it into cubes.
2. Microwave the cauliflower rice according to the instructions on the bag.
3. Place the cauliflower in a skillet.
4. Cook on low heat for 2-5 minutes, stirring it frequently to brown a bit, but not burn.
5. Add in the ½ cup of peas.
6. Stir in the low-sodium soy sauce, lime juice, cilantro, and onion.
7. Fry 1 whole egg in pan using cooking spray to line the non-stick pan.
8. Plate your dish by putting the cauliflower in a bowl, adding the chicken, and topping off the dish with the egg.

FISH RECIPES

There are many simple ways to prepare fish, including grilling, baking and broiling. Here are several types of fish that you should consider. They're all included in my program, and most of these are primary proteins.

Bass

Striped bass

Black cod/sable

Blue fish

Butter fish

Catfish

Chilean sea bass/Patagonian toothfish

Cod

Flounder

Grouper

Haddock

Halibut

John dory

Mackerel

Mahi mahi

Mullet

Orange roughy

Sablefish

Salmon

Sand dab

Sea bass

Shark

Sole

Sturgeon

Swordfish

Tilapia

Trout

Tuna

Wahoo

Whitefish

CRUSTACEANS

Crab

Crayfish

Prawn

Lobster

Shrimp

Add two servings of a low-carb vegetable and add a salad and off you go.

On the run? Simply add a 6-oz piece of any fish over a green salad and choose your dressing. I like salsa or a lemon, but any non-sugar added dressing will work. A little hint: if the dressing is creamy, it's probably not your best choice.

More Interesting Fish Dishes

Who likes sushi? I love sashimi, and more and more people around the world are becoming aware of sushi and sashimi. Sashimi is just sushi fish without the rice. Eliminating the rice is a great way to stay on my nutrition program.

I eat lots of fish and vegetables at lunch and dinner. I have sashimi all the time for lunch and dinner, and I don't eat any bread or pasta, which helps keep me from adding bodyfat.

Keep in mind that a single sushi roll has about 1 bowl of rice in it. A bowl of rice has more useless carbs than does a few pieces of white bread. That's not where the problem ends. How is it that the rice is sticky and stays together under sushi and on rolls? SUGAR! Sushi chefs add sugar to the rice to make it sticky rice, which now compounds the issue.

The key is to eat sashimi instead of sushi. I have created and been taught many raw-fish dishes that use no rice. So let me describe a few of these. Hopefully this can spark you into coming up with interesting dishes beyond mine.

Grapefruit Sushi

Ingredients:

4 oz salmon sashimi
4 oz yellowtail sashimi
4 oz blue-fin tuna
12 pieces cooked shrimp
4 grapefruit
Low-sodium soy sauce
Ponzu sauce
Rice vinegar

Instructions:

1. Get 2 bowls, 1 for the grapefruit and grapefruit juice; the other for everything else.
 2. Cut the grapefruit in half, squeeze half of them into the bowl, peel the other half of the grapefruit and cut it up into pieces you can eat in 1 bite, place them in the grapefruit juice.
 3. Add in 4 tablespoons low-sodium soy sauce, 4 tablespoons ponzu sauce, and 1 drip of rice vinegar.
 4. Mix that together.
 5. Cut the sashimi and shrimp into ¼ inch blocks and put in second bowl.
 6. When done cutting put the fish in the other bowl mix it up and serve.
-  IMPORTANT: Do not mix the two bowls before you want to eat because after a few minutes the grapefruit starts to cook the fish. Serves three.

Spicy Tuna Cucumber Roll

(Note: You can substitute yellow tail, salmon, or any other sashimi if you like.)

Ingredients:

- 6 oz tuna sashimi
- 1 large cucumber
- 2 tablespoons of non-fat mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon of sesame seeds
- 1 tablespoon of Sriracha sauce
- 2 tablespoons of low-sodium soy sauce

Instructions:

1. Peel the cucumbers, then slice in half the long way and scoop out all the seeds.
2. Chop and mince the block of fish and place in a bowl.
3. Mix in the mayonnaise.
4. Add in a few drops to 1 tablespoon of Sriracha sauce depending on how spicy you want your tuna.
5. Once completely mixed in, take a spoon and scoop the tuna out and put it in the cucumber where the seeds used to be. It will look like a tuna boat.
6. Sprinkle the sesame seeds on top.
7. Drip the low-sodium soy sauce over the rolls.
8. Then, cut the short way into ½ inch pieces. It will look like spicy tuna bites.

I introduced this recipe to my local sushi place. Within a month, they were selling over 100 of my rolls a week.

Grill It!

You can grill your favorite fish, too. Make sure you sear it or cook it all the way through. Cut up double the amount of vegetables than your piece of fish and grill them alongside the fish. I like to sprinkle a tiny amount of salt and pepper on the vegetables. Make a green salad and serve. Serves 1

BEEF

Beef is a great food on my program, but I personally only eat beef about once every two weeks. I certainly do not have anything against beef. Growing up in an Argentinian family, beef was a staple. Here are 29 lean cuts of beef with info according to the USDA.

Beef Cuts (a 3-oz serving):	Calories:	Saturated Fat (g):	Total Fat (g):
Eye round roast and steak	144	1.4	4
Sirloin tip side steak	143	1.6	4.1
Top round roast and steak	157	1.6	4.6
Bottom round roast and steak	139	1.7	4.9
Top sirloin steak	156	1.9	4.9
Brisket, flat half	167	1.9	5.1
95% lean ground beef	139	2.3	5.1
Round tip roast and steak	148	1.9	5.3
Round steak	154	1.9	5.3
Shank cross cuts	171	1.9	5.4
Chuck shoulder pot roast	147	1.8	5.7
Sirloin tip center roast and steak	150	2.1	5.8
Chuck shoulder steak	161	1.9	6.0
Bottom round (western griller) steak	155	2.2	6.0
Top loin (strip) steak	161	2.3	6.0
Shoulder petite tender	150	2.4	6.1
Flank steak	158	2.6	6.3
Shoulder center (ranch) steak	155	2.4	6.5
Tri-tip roast and steak	158	2.6	7.1
Tenderloin roast and steak	170	2.7	7.1
T-Bone steak	172	3.0	8.2

Keep it Lean

Beef is high in protein, zinc, iron and vitamin B. Do not fear the fat in beef. Fifty percent of the fat is monounsaturated, which is considered heart healthy.

That said, I only eat lean cuts of meat. I usually grill it, but many people like to broil it. When creating dishes with beef I always group it with low glycemic-load carb foods. I feel it digests better when grouped that way. Higher glycemic-load foods when coupled with beef cause your insulin spike to last longer.

Steak Vegetable Salad with Balsamic Vinaigrette

Ingredients:

Your choice of 6 oz of lean beef

Bowl of green salad

Balsamic vinaigrette

Instructions:

1. Place 5 oz of spring mix baby lettuce or whatever lettuce you like best.
2. Grill or broil 6 oz of your favorite beef; place it on top of the lettuce.
3. Drizzle 2 tablespoons of balsamic vinaigrette over the top of the salad.

Steak Plate

Ingredients:

6 oz choice of lean beef

Choice of 2 or 3 different side vegetables

Instructions:

1. Grill or broil 6 oz lean cut of beef of your choice.
2. Prepare your choice of vegetables and plate them all together.

Beef Stew

Ingredients:

- 2 tablespoons of olive oil
- 2 pounds of stew meat cut into 1-inch cubes
- ½ tablespoon of salt
- ½ tablespoon of ground pepper
- 4 large carrots cut into ½ inch pieces
- 4 celery stalks cut ½ inch pieces
- 2 tablespoons of tomato paste
- 1 tablespoon of thyme
- 1 tablespoon of dried rosemary
- 2 tablespoons of chopped fresh parsley
- 1 diced onion
- 3 cups of beef broth

Instructions:

1. Put the burner on medium heat. Using a large pot, add the olive oil and wait for the olive oil to sizzle, which takes about 1-2 minutes after adding it to the pot.
2. Add the meat and stir until all sides of the diced meat are brown.
3. Take the meat out and place it into a medium-size bowl, but try to keep the liquid from the meat and the olive oil inside the pot.
4. Then add the diced onion to the pot and stir for about 5 minutes until it is cooked.
5. Add the diced carrots and celery to the pot and stir them in with the onions for about 2 minutes.
6. Pour in the beef broth and add the meat back into the pot.
7. Add the salt, ground pepper, tomato paste, thyme, rosemary, and fresh parsley to the pot and stir for about 2 minutes.
8. Cover the pot with a lid and reduce the heat to low/simmer for 2 to 2½ hours.
9. Uncover the pot and stir the stew before serving.

The All-American Turkey Burger

A lot of people that I meet with tell me their biggest weakness is burgers and French fries. I know how tempting they are, but you can easily turn a burger into a healthier option. My wife makes the best turkey burgers that are low in fat and sugar.

Ingredients:

1 pound of ground turkey

1 tablespoon of Wellbee's Honey Ketchup

¼ cup of chopped onion

½ teaspoon of salt

A pinch of pepper

Toppings:

1 slice of tomato (optional)

Lettuce

Instructions:

1. Add all the ingredients together in a bowl and knead the ingredients together.
2. Make your patties about 1/3 of an inch thick.
3. Grill your patties on a medium to high heat on an outdoor grill.
4. Grill your burgers for about 5 minutes on each side or until the burger looks cooked.
5. Add your toppings if you would like and enjoy, but do not add a bun to this. That is way too many carbohydrates and unnecessary. Serves four

VEGETARIAN DISHES: MEATLESS MAGIC

Veganism is mainstream, and it is here to stay. Because vegan eating is so widespread now, you can get great ingredients to make vegan meals.

Even though I am not vegan I enjoy a whole host of vegan meals and can go days without eating protein that comes from an animal. Many people believe that if they start eating this way they will either wither away or end up eating all carbs and looking puffy. Both of these can happen if you eat empty carbs such as bread, pasta, white rice and white potatoes as your main dishes. But if you take the time to do your homework you can find meals that will create whole proteins that taste great and won't make you fat. I promise.

The following vegan recipes are meals you'll like even if you're not vegan. And, with a slight tweak here or there, you can make it not vegan but still delicious.

Cauliflower has become my secret weapon when it comes to food. This also fits perfectly well when enjoying vegan dishes. I can make it instead of French fries, mashed potatoes, rice, Buffalo wings and even steak.

Cauliflower French Fries

Ingredients:

1 package of cauliflower florets

3 tablespoons of virgin olive oil

1 teaspoon of salt

Instructions:

1. Take a package of cauliflower florets and place them in a Ziploc bag along with 3 tablespoons of virgin olive oil and a teaspoon of salt.
2. Shake the bag up and make sure all the florets are evenly covered in the oil and salt. Let that package of yum sit in the fridge for at least 5 hours.
3. Take the cookie sheet and evenly spread out the cauliflower and put your oven on 350 and cook for 30 minutes.
4. Then turn the cauliflower over and cook for another 30 minutes. The cauliflower should turn dark brown but not black. It should almost look caramelized, guiltless and better than French fries. Serves three

Cauliflower Mashed Potatoes

Ingredients:

2½-3 pounds cauliflower florets

1 clove of garlic

1 tablespoon of unsalted butter or olive oil

½ teaspoon of salt

A pinch of pepper

Instructions:

1. Use a medium pot and put all the cauliflower inside it.
2. Fill the pot with water till it covers all the cauliflower.
3. Cover with a lid and bring to a boil. Once it boils reduce the heat to low and cook for around 10 more minutes or until the cauliflower is tender. Then drain.
4. Add the butter or olive oil and spread evenly.
5. Use a high-end blender and pour all the ingredients inside. Put the blender lid on top and blend till smooth.
6. Add salt and pepper and serve like you would mashed potatoes. Serves four

Cauliflower Buffalo Wings

Ingredients:

Olive oil spray

¾ cup gluten-free baking flour

1 cup of water

½ teaspoon of garlic powder

A pinch of both salt and ground pepper

2 heads of cauliflower

2 tablespoons of butter

½ cup of hot pepper sauce (optional)

1 teaspoon of honey

Instructions:

1. Mix flour, garlic powder, water, salt and pepper together in bowl. Whisk it all together till the batter is smooth.
2. Now put the cauliflower in the batter until the cauliflower is fully coated. Remove the cauliflower and place on a cookie sheet.
3. Bake in a preheated oven for 20-25 min.
4. In a saucepan, over medium heat melt the butter.
5. Remove from the heat and stir in the honey and optionally the hot pepper sauce until it's smooth.
6. Brush the mix over the cauliflower and bake for another 10 minutes or until browned.
7. Remove the cookie sheet and allow to cool for 10-15 minutes.

Cauliflower Rice

Ingredients:

1 package of cauliflower rice

1 tablespoon of virgin olive oil

Instructions:

1. Put 1 tablespoon of virgin olive oil in a large skillet on medium heat.
2. Add in the cauliflower rice.
3. Cover with a lid so the cauliflower steams and becomes tender.
4. Cook for 5-8 minutes and now you have guiltless rice.

Jodi's Famous Cauliflower Steak

I kid you not Cauliflower Steak. When I first was introduced to this I was like, "Yeah, right." Now I go crazy for it.

Ingredients:

1 pre-cut cauliflower steak or 1 head of cauliflower, which you will need to cut

½ teaspoon of extra virgin olive oil

Season with salt and pepper

Instructions:

1. Preheat oven to 400 degrees.
2. Place the cauliflower steaks on a baking sheet.
3. Rub in the extra virgin olive oil and season the cauliflower with salt and pepper on both sides of the steak.
4. Cook the cauliflower in the oven for 15 minutes on one side and then turnover the cauliflower to the other side. Let the other side continue to cook for about 15 minutes.

Spaghetti Squash Pasta

Ingredients:

1 spaghetti squash

1 cup of marinara sauce

1 burrata mozzarella ball

Instructions:

1. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees.
2. Cut the squash open lengthwise and scoop out all the seeds.
3. Place the squash cut-side down on a baking sheet and add the tiniest bit of water to the pan to help cook the squash. Let them bake in the oven for about 45 minutes.
4. Take out the squash and use a fork to scrape out the squash spaghetti.
5. Place all the squash that was scraped out into a medium-size bowl.
6. Pour the marinara sauce into the bowl and mix it together with the squash.
7. Plate your spaghetti squash and add your burrata cheese on top (half of the cheese on each plate). Serves two

Spaghetti Squash Pasta with Ground Turkey

(non-vegetarian version)

Same recipe as above except you add ground turkey to the sauce.

Additional Ingredients:

3 oz. of lean ground turkey

Instructions:

1. Spray canola spray oil in a skillet.
2. Brown the lean ground turkey in it.
3. Drain any liquid that accumulates and add the turkey into the sauce.

Zucchini Spaghetti*

Ingredients:

1 package of zucchini noodles

¼ cup of water

1 tablespoon of olive oil

A pinch of salt

A pinch of pepper

½ cup of fresh chopped tomatoes

2 tablespoons of grated Parmesan

Instructions:

1. Place the olive oil into a skillet on medium heat.
2. Add the zucchini noodles to the oil and stir it for 1 minute.
3. Pour in the water and continue to stir and cook the zucchini for about 6-8 minutes or until the zucchini is softened.
4. Add the salt and pepper to season the zucchini.
5. Place the zucchini into a medium size bowl and mix in the tomatoes and Parmesan.
6. Then plate your dish.

 Make non-vegetarian version by adding ground turkey as prepared above.

Healthy Avocado Toast

Ingredients:

- 1 slice of Ezekiel bread
- ½ of a medium-size avocado
- ½ of a lime
- ¼ teaspoon of kosher salt

Toppings:

- 1 sliced tomato (optional)
- ¼ cup of pomegranate seeds (optional)
- 1 poached egg (optional)

Instructions:

1. Scoop out the avocado and mash it up in a bowl.
2. Mix the lime juice and salt the avocado.
3. Toast your bread.
4. Spread your avocado on your toast.
5. Optionally, you may add one of the toppings I suggested on top of your avocado spread.

Superhero Soup

★ This cabbage soup is another free food that you can add to your other meals, much the same as salads with low- or no-calorie dressings. It's loaded with fiber and very low in calories. You can consume it before, during or after meals so long as you abide by my main rule of not consuming any foods in those five-hour windows between meals.

Keep in mind you can also make up more than one batch of this soup, combining different spices and flavors to provide more variety in your nutrition program.

Ingredients:

1 head cabbage chopped

1 large onions diced

1 can stewed tomatoes (16 oz or so)

½ bunch celery chopped

4-6 large carrots chopped

3 bouillon cubes (beef or chicken, depending on taste)

4-6 gloves garlic (to taste) crushed

1 oz balsamic vinaigrette

1 Tablespoon soy sauce

1 packet onion soup mix

black pepper, basil, chives, cilantro and other spices to taste

Instructions:

1. Chop all vegetables to desired consistency.
2. Cook cabbage and onions adding enough water to cover. If your pot is not large enough to contain all ingredients, add more water as the vegetables cook down.
3. Add bouillon, spices, garlic and other ingredients when you've added the last of the water.
4. Add other vegetables such as carrots, broccoli, green peppers and cauliflower as desired, combining and cooking them to the consistency you desire.

Sweet Potato French Fries

Ingredients:

- 1 large sweet potato
- ¼ teaspoon of kosher salt
- 2 teaspoons of olive oil or canola oil

Dipping Sauce:

- 1 tablespoon of Wellbee's ketchup (optional)

Instructions:

1. Preheat the oven to 450 degrees.
2. Peel and cut the sweet potato into wedges.
3. In a Ziploc bag, add all the ingredients and shake them together.
4. Spread the wedges out on a baking sheet.
5. Bake the potato for approximately 20 minutes or until the fries look golden brown.

Chinese Food

★ One of my favorite types of food is Chinese. I know what you might be thinking... Chinese food can be really calorie heavy. However, not all Chinese food is fattening. Just think about a basic Chinese dish. There is always some sort of protein and a vegetable combined in a sauce. Sound familiar?

If you want to make your own Chinese dish, pick one of the following proteins: chicken, beef, pork, or shrimp, and add in a few vegetables of your choice. I often add in some combination of cauliflower, broccoli, string beans, red pepper and mushrooms, but you can add whatever vegetables you like.

Saute the protein and vegetables together in a pan on medium heat with 2 tablespoons of low-sodium soy sauce. To replace the rice, you can either make cauliflower rice or quinoa, both of which I explained how to make earlier in this chapter.
